The poems in The Bird Catcher are divided into three sections: "The Bird Catcher," "The Distance," and "The Return." The first section explores the theme of love. Ponsot writes about the joys and challenges of love, and she does so with a keen eye for detail and a deep understanding of the human heart.

The second section of the book, "The Distance," explores the theme of loss. Ponsot writes about the pain of losing a loved one, and she does so with a raw honesty that is both heartbreaking and healing.

The third section of the book, "The Return," explores the theme of the human condition. Ponsot writes about the challenges we all face in life, and she does so with a wisdom and compassion that is both comforting and inspiring.

The Bird Catcher is a beautiful and thought-provoking collection of poems that will stay with you long after you finish reading it. It is a book that will make you laugh, cry, and think about the human condition in a new way.
