Wolff, who has unparalleled access to Trump and his inner circle, paints a vivid portrait of a man consumed by his own ego and driven by a thirst for revenge. Trump is convinced that the 2020 election was stolen from him, and he is determined to do whatever it takes to win in 2024, even if it means destroying the very institutions of democracy that have stood for centuries.

Wolff's book is a chilling reminder of the fragility of our democracy. It is a must-read for anyone who cares about the future of the United States.

Michael Wolff on Trump's Election Meltdown

In an interview with The New York Times, Wolff said that Trump is "absolutely convinced" that the 2020 election was stolen from him. He said that Trump is "not going to let go of this" and that he is "going to do everything he can to win in 2024, even if it means destroying the country."

Wolff also said that Trump is "surrounded by people who are telling him what he wants to hear" and that he is "increasingly isolated from reality." He said that Trump is "in a very dangerous place right now" and that he is "a threat to American democracy."

The Dangers of a Trump Presidency in 2024

Wolff's book paints a chilling picture of the dangers of a Trump presidency in 2024. Trump has already shown that he is willing to undermine the rule of law and attack the institutions of democracy. If he is re-elected, he could do even more damage to our country.

Here are some of the dangers of a Trump presidency in 2024:

- Trump could continue to attack the rule of law and undermine the independence of the judiciary.
- Trump could further erode trust in our elections and make it more difficult for people to vote.
- Trump could appoint unqualified and partisan judges to the Supreme Court, who could overturn precedents and roll back our rights.

- Trump could continue to alienate our allies and damage our relationships with other countries.
- Trump could start a war or take other reckless actions that could put our country at risk.

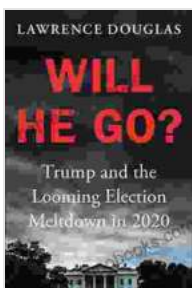

How to Prevent a Trump Election Meltdown

The best way to prevent a Trump election meltdown in 2024 is to vote him out of office in 2020. However, even if Trump is defeated, we must remain vigilant and continue to defend our democracy.

Here are some things we can do to prevent a Trump election meltdown in 2024:

- Vote in every election, and encourage others to vote.
- Support organizations that are fighting to protect our democracy.
- Speak out against Trump's attacks on our institutions and values.
- Stay informed about the latest news and developments.
- Be prepared to defend our democracy if necessary.

The future of our democracy is at stake in 2024. We must do everything we can to prevent a Trump election meltdown.
